

Tom Quinlivan Citation for Honorary State Life Membership

Tom has been involved in IPSHA for over 10 years and he joined the Executive in 2014. He provided his knowledge and expertise as a leader and educator. He has been Head of Kingsway Christian College Junior School for the past 10 years. At the end of 2020 he moved to be part of the company Human Link to continue his involvement in providing educators with his expertise in many aspects of education.

He coordinated the Deputies network in 2014 and 2015, organising professional learning opportunities for this group of aspiring leaders. Tom was an active organiser and contributor to many IPSHA activities. He organised and ran the Chess Days in 2015 and 2016, hosted Ecumenical service and involved his school in a wide variety of IPSHA activities.

From 2017 to 2020 Tom has represented IPSHA WA on APPA, providing a voice for independent primary schools on this important organisation. He has provided IPSHA leaders with pertinent information about the future of education.

Tom has made a valuable contribution to the independent education sector in WA throughout his time and involvement in IPSHA.
